

Organizations in India

Each year Aarti Foundation sponsors a free eye camp at Matrudham Charitable Eye Hospital in Ahmedabad, India. This past year, 390 patients underwent eye surgery thanks to funding from Aarti. Complimentary glasses, eye exams, and medications were also given.

The mission of Sanskar Tirth (in Ajol) is to help young women develop self-confidence and independence through education and vocational training. Aarti Foundation was proud to sponsor 30 students this past year.

Niramaya Health Foundation in Mumbai, India is a non-profit organization committed to ensuring a disease-free childhood, with a focus on preventing anemia and related malnutrition in children ages 2 to 10. Aarti Foundation has been a proud supporter for the past several years.

AIDS Combat International (ACI) in Mumbai, India improves the quality of life of HIV-infected widows and children by reducing social stigma and discrimination through large awareness programs. Nayanam (a subdivision of ACI) supports routine screening for eye surgeries. ACI donated over 1,000 PPE kits to physicians and patients during the COVID-19 pandemic.

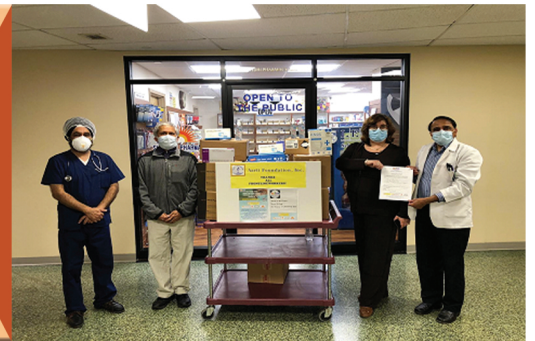

Organizations in the U.S.

The Interfaith Nutrition Network is a homeless shelter in Hempstead, NY. Each year Aarti Foundation donates food items around the holidays so that the needy can receive a hot meal.

Aarti Foundation partnered with Indian American Forum to provide personal protective equipment (PPE) to health care workers at Parker Jewish Institute in New Hyde Park, NY during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Aarti Foundation partnered with Indian American Cultural Association of Westchester (IACAW) to deliver personal protective equipment (PPE) to White Plains Hospital, Westchester Medical Center, and St. John's Riverside Hospital during the COVID-19 pandemic.

New York Chapter 2 of the American Academy of Pediatrics and Aarti Foundation provided joint funding to impact food insecurity across the regions of Long Island, Brooklyn, and Queens during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Aarti Foundation donated funds to Midnight Run, an outreach that provides food and clothing to the homeless in Manhattan.

